JOHN CRAPSTER IS REUNITED AFTER 50 YEARS KILLED IN FALL

Well Known Resident of Taneytown Dies from Injuries Received When Ladder Falls. Was Widely Known and Highly Respected

John Crapster, a prominent resident of Taneytown, and a gentleman who was widely known and highly respected in Gettysburg, died from a ladder at his home on Tuesday afternoon, after sustaining injuries from which he died twenty minutes later. He was aged about 70 years.

Mr. Crapster was residing at the rear of his home and was standing on a ladder which was known to be unsafe. He believed it would hold his weight however and proceeded with his work. Suddenly the ladder gave way and he was thrown down, falling on an iron picket fence, a distance of twenty feet. He was tenderly carried into his home and Dr. B. B. Smith examined him. He was found to have a fractured hip and a broken leg, and was unable to move.

Mr. Crapster was a lifelong resident of Carroll county, Maryland. For many years he had been in Taneytown, where he was well known and highly respected. He was a member of the Carroll county Agricultural Society and was a member of the Carroll county Historical Society. He was a well-known farmer and was a member of the Carroll county Board of Supervisors.
